BUILDING PERMIT VALUES DECREASE 12.9 PERCENT IN JUNE

NEW YORK, Dec. 30--The value of building permits in the nation's 202 largest cities decreased 12.9 percent to $4.1 billion in June 1991 from $4.7 billion in June 1990, according to The Dun & Bradstreet Corporation.

The greatest percentage increase in June was reported in Anaheim, Calif., up 616.8 percent to $96.4 million from $13.4 million in June 1990. The increase in Anaheim was largely due to the construction of a sports arena and residential projects.

In Tallahassee, Fla., construction of a sewage treatment plant drove permit values up 522.5 percent to $33 million from $5.3 million. In Scranton, Pa., construction of a four-story veteran's home boosted permit values 483.8 percent to $14.2 million from $2.4 million.

Louisville, Ky., reported a 315.1 percent increase to $26.4 million in June 1991 from $6.4 million in June 1990. The increase in Louisville was due in part to the construction of two office buildings and a nursing home. In Green Bay, Wis., building permit values increased 297.7 percent to $19.4 million from $4.9 million.

The largest total dollar value of permits issued in June was recorded in New York, at $248.1 million, a 13.9 percent increase from June 1990. Los Angeles was second, at $181.3 million, a 60.3 percent decrease; followed by Chicago, at $171.6 million, a 2.5 percent decrease.

For the first six months of 1991, building permit values fell 16.2 percent to $22.7 billion from $27.0 billion in the same period of 1990.

Building permit values are issued by The Dun & Bradstreet Corporation on a monthly basis. Data are compiled for the nation's 202 largest cities, as defined by populations within city limits.

The Dun & Bradstreet Corporation is the world's largest marketer of business information and related services, with worldwide operating revenue of $4.8 billion in 1990.
